

Dear Eddie

I am sorry for what I am about to write, but I can't go on living a lie anymore. I've cheated, lied to you, I just can't carry on anymore. I am having to write it down on paper as I can't tell you face to face.

The baby I'm carrying is not yours. I have been having an affair for the last 14 months with a guy called Nigel. The baby is his. If you work it out, the baby could not possibly be yours. I was living at Morris at the time, we hardly seen each other, never mind sleeping together. I tricked you into thinking the baby was yours by the dates I gave you, in fact the baby is due 3/4 weeks before that.

I know I have messed up your life up I can't apologise enough, what you could have had as well. None basis, not even close about Nigel but they will soon. Nigel has asked me to go and live with him abroad, I have said yes for can have the house and the furniture I will only be taking a few small things. You can divorce me on adultery, send the papers to Mum, Dad for me to sign as when I have told them what is really going on, I will give them my forward address.

I would like to go to my 10 pick up the boxes with Sandra, as I know she will love you, you deserve better than me.

Don't do anything stupid I'm not with it Hopefully by the weekend I'll be at your life for good, and I'll be starting my new life with Nigel. I suppose you feel like hitting me, you never have but but you feel like it now. You'll hate me, that I'm selfish. I did love you in my own way, it just that Nigel came along and my life changed. You probably wondering where did I find time, well you know that computer course I said I was on.

I only went twice, I used it as an excuse to get out

I can't imagine how you must feel.

about the baby especially. Coming with me to visit Nigel, feeling it kick inside. How could I be to you, I would have to be a lee lover. I know you would like a family but Sandra or whoever will provide you with that I think in my own way I know the marriage was really over as you hardly touch me unless I touch you, we never really kiss we were just the good friends in a way George will be checked but it's what I want all along I've destroyed you in every way that I could and saying sorry wasn't help you but I could turn the clock back I said.

You must go on and forget me and my family it all down to you now. You have been great with me over the whole situation I couldn't have been so calm about it as you have been. But as you said you only stayed because of the baby it was not for me.
 I wonder what my family and friends will say. It's open to be interesting if you they don't blame you, I will tell them everything once I'm gone. You don't have to worry.

They will all have to accept it as it is I'm not changing my mind Just as you won't ever let me back into your life.
I've got to drop you but at least you know we are parting as friends not enemies like in your previous marriage.

Take good care of yourself Good luck for your future.
Love from Paul x
